Hello Blair,

I am happy to talk or meet anytime. I believe you know my boss Marc Trotz. Let me know your availability. Thanks, Libby.

Subject: E-introductions

Hi Blair and Libby,

Via this email I would like to introduce the two of you. Blair is a resident and ED of the Downtown Historic Core BID, located right on the edges of Skid Row. Blair is very passionate about her community and seeing that vulnerable people are connected to services to reduce harm to themselves and others. She has even hired a homeless outreach worker for the bid to connect people to housing and services. She has been working really hard to connect with DMH for known persons with severe mental illness and has come across a few road blocks.

Given your mutual interest in doing what it takes to house our most vulnerable homeless residents, I thought that there may be some cross synergy between the two of you and suggest that you do a quick introduction meeting over at the Housing for Health office.

I will let you both take it from here.

Alisa
